Petersburg, Va., June 25.

The Board of Aldermen held a brief session last night, concurred with the Council in ordering the payment of all municipal accounts for the current month of June, and in the resolution granting Mayor Cameron a vacation of three months to enable him to seek restoration of his health. Concurrence was also voted in the appointment of a joint committee to select the site for the new bridge across the Appomattox, connecting the city with Chesterfield County, to take the place of the Bishop Bridge, erected several years ago by the government. It is proposed to locate the new bridge immediately below and close to the Bishop Bridge, so that owing to its construction, travel on the present structure will not be interrupted. Various other acts of the Council were approved. The two branches of the Council have held their last meetings for the present fiscal year.

Hays, of Blandford Lodge, and Worshipful Master I. T. Townsend, of Petersburg Lodge. After appropriate services in the lodge room, a banquet was spread and enjoyed.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. F. T. McFadden, D. D., of Richmond, whose subject was "What Good Does Masonry Do?" The educational and fraternal features of the order, the great influence of Masonry in the protection of womanhood and the purity of the home, its influence on and helpfulness to the church, were points eloquently elaborated by the speaker. HIS FAMILY WILL PAY

Love Affairs of Marquis Not to Be Altered in Court.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] London, June 25.--Owing to the tremendous influence being exerted by the family of the Marquis of Northampton, the breach of promise suit brought against the marquis by Miss Viola Moss, the musical comedy actress, will be settled before it can be brought to trial next Monday. It was learned tonight that Miss Moss has refused an offer of $150,000 made by the family of the young marquis, but the sister of the marquis, Lady Loch, has insisted that her brother's love affairs shall not be altered in court.

One of the greatest obstacles the family had to overcome was the attitude of the marquis himself. Close friends of the family said tonight that while the marquis was still Earl of Compton, he was determined to marry the girl, but since he had attained the title and estate he has listened to the pleadings of his relatives and has at last decided to give up Miss Moss.

The letters of credit were drawn on the London firm of Brown & Shipley, Xavier Guichard, the head of the criminal investigation department, and a large force of detectives were at once sent out to search for the thief.

Odds and Ends From the Wire

PERFECT COP JOINS FORCE.

Former Fireman Scores 100 Points in All Rigid Tests.

Boston, June 25.--A cop who neither drinks, smokes nor swears and incidentally boasts of a thousand other unusual virtues, was added to the police force of this city. It is the first time Boston has had a perfect policeman, an officer who scores 100 points in every department of police desirability according to the examination tests. He is William McLaughlin, for two years a fireman attached to Engine 24 in Charlestown. McLaughlin surprised the examining officials when he scored 100 per cent in the strength, balance and health trials of the strength test. The previous highest record was 99.95 per cent, which was considered by Commissioner O'Meara and the civil service physician to be probably unbeatable.

REVIVES LAD IN FOUR HOURS.

Child, Apparently Drowned, Restored to Frantic Mother.
Williamsport, Pa., June 25.--After four hours of continuous labor Dr. J. L. Mansury, of Ralston, succeeded in resuscitating a seven-year-old boy who had been apparently drowned in a creek. The child, who was playing his hide-and-seek in the water of Locomotive Creek, got into a pool, and after being under water for several minutes was rescued by his twelve-year-old cousin, who was with him. The lad's mother, driven frantic by the accident to her son, jumped into the same pool in an attempt at suicide. She was rescued by bystanders.

ELK GAUITY ENDS IN GLOOM.

One Celebrant, Anxious for Noise, Rans Dr.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 25.--The gaiety of the annual picnic of the Elks of Western Pennsylvania in Idlewild Park, near Ligonier, was turned to gloom when an iron pipe filled with dynamite and powder exploded, killing Albert Kirsch, aged fifty-two, of Pittsburgh, and injuring a dozen persons. To add to the celebration Kirsch and several others had buried a piece of three-inch pipe partially in the ground and were filling it with the explosive. While examining the charge it exploded. Kirsch's back and head were badly mutilated. The fragments of the pipe struck a dozen others, none, however, fatally.

There was participated in by forty-one lodges of Elks in Western Pennsylvania.

The man, who was buried in a tunnel of the Erie Railroad, was found alive after three hours of searching. He was rescued and is now recovering from his injuries.

SURE OF HOSIERY BANK.

Woman Who Figured in Realty Deals Thus Carried Thousands.

Newark, N. J., June 25.--Mrs. Mary C. Ettlinger, who has been in the news for some time, gave her opinion of the safest kind of bank by testifying that she had carried $100,000 in her stockings. She was examined in the bankruptcy case against Frederick C. Hannel & Sons, building contractors, of Irvington. Her testimony was being raised. The first were rescued in an hour, but the third was not brought to the street surface for almost three hours.

During that time the third man, Joseph Gabrielle, was kept alive by air forced through the grate by four iron pipes.

All three, suffering from injuries and exhaustion, are expected to recover.

NEWS OF SOUTH RICHMOND

INVESTIGATE GIRLS' HOME

Charges of Cruelty at Industrial School Will Be Looked Into.

An investigation of conditions at the Industrial School for Girls in Bon Air, Chesterfield County, against which Marie McNamara, seventeen years old, an escaped inmate of the institution, made sensational charges of cruelty and mistreatment yesterday, before Squire Cheatham, will be immediately made by Dr. Douglas Freeman, of the State Board of Charities and Corrections.

The girl, who escaped from the Bon Air home last Monday and was caught by County Officer Jarrell the next day, claims that she was worked like a slave by authorities of the school, and exhibited large knots on her hand. She charged that the girls are made to labor on the farm under the direction of a negro.

The McNamara girl is reported to be the wife of a man named Darnell, a painter, living in Norfolk. She was the wife of Sadie Miller, with whom she was brought from Norfolk. The Miller girl made her escape recently, but was captured and brought back to the home. The Associated Charities have now taken up the case of Marie McNamara, and she will make her home there for the present.

"Drys" Are Active.

From present indications everything points to a clean sweep by the dry forces in the local option election which will be held in Swansboro on July 17. Last year the petitions for an election were thrown out by a technicality, and when Judge Southall granted the petitions last month the liquor men were thrown out of their guard.

A joint meeting of the churches of Swansboro was held last night in the Weatherford Memorial Church. The ministers pointed out the advantages of a "dry" town, and said that liquor drinking was being done at the bars. Another meeting will be held in Forest Hill church by the local option committee. The speaker of the hour, Richard E. Byrd, Rev. J. M. Rowland and others have offered their services to speak at a public meeting.

Funeral of Infant.

Funeral services of Archibald, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crostie, who died at the home of his grandparents, 300 East Sixth Street, yesterday morning, will be held this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock from the home. The interment will be in Maple Cemetery.

Another Richmond Mother Made Happy

Through What Quaker Herb Extract Did for Her Son

Mrs. Mary Garland reported the case of her son, Mr. J. Garland, who resides at R. P. D. No. 5, Richmond, Va., as follows:

"My son has suffered with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for years. For the past three years he has suffered with constant headaches all the time, had severe coughing spells, and his stomach was in such a state that he could not eat anything. In fact, anything he ate, he could not retain it, and at times even a glass of water would cramp him almost to death. Said time and again he would have to stand over him and apply hot cloths, and it would look like every minute would be his end, he would suffer such agony. Also had pains in the back and limbs; in fact, was getting in a very weak, rundown condition. He had tried everything he could buy and everything any one would recommend to him for his troubles. But all he ever tried did not seem to reach his case, but, to the contrary, he seemed to be getting worse and worse all the time, until about two weeks ago he read of Gray, the Quaker Health Teacher, and the Great Quaker Remedies at Trask's drug store and the wonderful results being derived from them, decided to give them a trial, and he purchased one bottle of the Quaker Herb Extract, and after taking the first bottle he felt a great relief. He purchased another bottle of the Quaker Herb Extract for what it has done for him. My son says, after taking that one bottle of medicine, his headache and pains are all gone, and now he can eat anything he wants without hurting him, and he wants to praise the Quaker Herb Extract for what it has done for him. Mrs. Garland said: Gray, you don't know how happy I am through what you have done for my son. I have several other children, but he is my only son, so you may know how glad I am to see him restored back to health. I can never thank you enough for what you have done for my son, and may God bless you for the good you are doing for the people in this city with those medicines. I will always recommend them to any one whom I meet with that are suffering." Gray says this is one of the many just such cases who report to him day after day, telling him of the benefits being received in catarrh, stomach trouble, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles. Call on Gray and find out for yourself that these reports are true, or write or call at the address given. Those who are receiving benefits will gladly tell you what Quaker has done for them.
